HISTORICAL & STATISTICAL SKETCH OF THE CITY OF LOWELL.

In 1652, about twenty persons from Woburn and Concord petitioned the General Court for liberty to examine a tract of land lying on the west side of Concord river.— Having made the necessary examination, in company with about twenty others, they preferred a petition in 1653, for a grant of the land bordering on the Merrimack, near Pawtucket. In their petition they represent, that “there is a comfortable place to accommodate a company of God’s people upon, who may, with God’s blessing, do good in that place for church and state.” They requested that the boundary of said land should commence at the junction of the Merrimack and the Concord rivers, and run six miles westerly on the Merrimack, and six miles southerly on Concord river, making a tract of about thirty-six square miles. The tract petitioned for, embraced what now constitutes Lowell and Chelmsford. The same year a petition on behalf of the Pawtucket Indians, was presented by the Rev. John Elliott, of Roxbury, that the lands lying about Pawtucket and Wameest Falls should be appropriated exclusively to the use of the Indians. The petition stated that the Pawtuckets had occupied said ground, erected wigwams thereon, and prepared it in some measure for cultivation. To reconcile these conflicting interests, the Court granted to the petitioners from Woburn and Concord, the land requested, with the exception of that part lying on the rivers, which was appropriated to the Indians.

The city of Lowell is now a part of the land granted at that time by an act of Court to the Pawtucket Indians, once the most powerful and chivalrick tribe in the north of Massachusetts. The historian Gookin states, that "the tribe was almost wholly destroyed by the sickness in 1612 and '13; and at this day (1674) there are not above two hundred and fifty men, besides women and children. What that disease was that so generally and mortally swept away these and other Indians in New-England, I cannot learn. Doubtless it was some pestilential disease. I have discoursed with some Indians, that were then youths, who say that their bodies were exceedingly yellow before and after they died, describing it by a yellow garment they showed me."

Gookin says that he visited the Pawtucket Indians in company with Elliott, on the fifth of May, 1674, and that Elliott delivered a sermon to them that evening, from the 22d chapter of Mathew, from the 1st to the 14th verse. The meeting was held in Wanalancet's wigwam, near the Pawtucket Falls. By the influence of Elliott, a certain form of Courts was established among the Indians, at the session of which, an English magistrate presided. The records of our early history show that the first court in Middlesex county, was held near the junction of the Merrimack and Concord rivers, on the land through which the Boott Canal now passes.

In 1726, Wamesit, as the Indian tract was called, was annexed to the town of Chelmsford.

Tradition says that the house erected by the Indians for public worship, was built of logs and located on the high ground at the head of Appleton street.

As the English population increased here the Indians decreased, till their number became very small, when they sold out their remaining lands, and removed to the north.— Their last abiding place here, we are informed, was on Fort Hill, around which, portions of a trench dug by them are still visible.

The town of Lowell, as incorporated by an act of the Legislature, passed on the first day of March, in 1824, contained four square miles, and was formerly the northeastern section of the town of Chelmsford. The Legislature in 1834, annexed Belvidere Village, the westerly corner of Tewksbury, to Lowell. This annexation extends the territory of Lowell to nearly five square miles.

The population of Lowell in 1826, was about 2000; in 1828, 3532; in 1830, 6477; in 1832, 10,254; in 1833, 12,363. The present population doubtless exceeds 19,000.

The first effort to promote manufactures in this place, was made in 1813. In consequence of the restrictions that were laid on commerce, and of the war with Great Britain the attention of many enterprising men was directed to domestic manufactures. Captain Phineas Whiting and Captain Josiah Fletcher, having selected an eligible site on Concord river at the Wamesit Falls, about a hundred rods from the Merrimack, erected at the expense of about $3000, a large wooden building for a cotton manufactory. In 1818 they sold their buildings and their right to the water power, to Mr Thomas Hurd. Mr Hurd afterwards fitted up the wooden factory and erected a large brick one, and several dwelling houses, and improved the same for fabricating woollen goods. The woollen factory was destroyed by fire on the 30th of June, 1826, but was rebuilt immediately after. Mr Hurd continued the business until the great pressure in 1828, when he was compelled to assign his property for the benefit of his creditors, and which was afterwards purchased by the Middlesex company.

About the year 1820. Messrs Patrick T. Jackson, Nathan Appleton, and Kirk Boott, of Boston, entered into a design to form a company for the purpose of manufacturing cotton goods, particularly calicoes. They accordingly commenced an enquiry for a suitable water privilege. A large number of privileges were examined, and for various reasons were rejected. At length Mr Paul Moody, then connected with the manufacturing establishments at Waltham while on a visit to his friends in Amesbury, met with Mr Worthen, a gentleman of taste, with views congenial to his own, to whom he mentioned that an extensive water privilege was wanted by the above named gentleman. Mr Worthen replied "why do they not purchase the land around the Pawtucket Falls, in Chelmsford? They can put up as many works as they please and never want for water." This conversation resulted in a visit of these gentlemen to this place, and from observation they were both satisfied that the privilege was exactly what was wanted. The pawtucket canal was immediately purchased by Messrs Jackson, Appleton and Boott.

This canal was projected about the year 1790, and the proprietors were incorporated in 1792, by the name of "The Proprietors of the Locks and Canals on Merrimack river." It was open for the purpose of facilitating the transportation of wood and lumber from the interior to Newburyport. It is about one mile and a half in length, and four sets of locks, and was built at the expense of $50,000. Its direction is nearly east, and it enters Concord river just above its junction with the Merrimack, where the water is thirty-two feet lower than at the head of Pawtucket Falls.

It is worthy of remark, that a few years before the purchase was made by Messrs Appleton, Jackson and Boott, an engineer was sent to this place, by a number of gentlemen in Boston, who made a report that there was no water privilege here.

The company made the first purchase of real estate on the 2d of November, 1821.—They began the work about the first of April, 1822. On the 10th of July they began to dig the canal broader and deeper, and let the water into it about the 1st of September, 1823. Five hundred men were constantly employed in digging and blasting. The gunpowder used in blasting, amounted to $6,000, at one shilling per pound. The whole expense of digging the canal was about $120,000. It is now sixty feet wide, has three sets of locks, and the water in it is eight feet deep, and is calculated to supply about fifty mills. In digging this canal ledges were found considerably below the old canal, which bore evident traces of its having once been the bed of the river. Many places were found worn into the ledge, as there usually are in falls, by stones kept constantly in motion by the water; some of these cavities were one foot or more in diameter and two feet deep.

The principal water-power, together with a large amount of real estate, is owned by a company called "The Proprietors of Locks and Canals on Merrimack River," with a capital of 600,000. They dispose of mill-rights and lands as they are wanted. Besides these they have a large Machine Shop, in which they manufacture machinery and cars and engines for Railroads, and employ from 200 to 300 workmen.

The first Manufacturing company, in point of age, as well as capital, is the Merrimack. It has a capital of $1,500,000, with five large brick factories, containing 37,344 spindles and 1,253 looms. It employs 437 males, and 1,400 females, and consumes 5,000 bales or 1,500,000 pounds of cotton annually. It manufactures, bleaches and prints 6,500,000 yards annually.

The Hamilton Manufacturing Company, has a capital of 1,000,000, three large brick factories, containing 20,992 spindles and 564 looms, and employs 830 females and 230 males. It consumes 5000 bales of cotton, manufactures 100,000 yards per week, or above 5,000,000 yards per annum. Two of the mills make twilled goods, the other one plain.

There are also a bleach and print works belonging to this company, in which part of the goods are converted into calicoes and fancy articles.

The Appleton Manufacturing Company, with a capital of 500,000 dollars, has two large brick factories, containing 11,776 spindles, 380 looms, and employs 65 males, and 470 females. It uses 36,000 pounds of cotton per week, and manufactures 5,000,000 yards of cloth annually.

The Lowell Manufacturing Company, with a capital of 500,000 dollars, has one factory for cotton goods, containing 5000 spindles, and 144 looms. They use 30,000 pounds of cotton, and make 55,000 yards of cloth, and 2,500 yards of carpeting, and 150 rugs per week. They manufacture the Kidderminster and Brussels carpets, and rugs of various kinds and patterns. They employ 200 males and 375 females.

The Middlesex Manufacturing Company, with a capital of 500,000 dollars, has two brick factories in operation, containing 28 sets of Cards, 4,620 spindles, 38 Broadcloth and 92 Cassimere looms. They employ 185 males and 350 females, and consume 600,000 pounds of wool per annum.

The Mayor, Aldermen and Common Council, in their joint capacity shall be denominated the City Council, and shall not, except the Mayor, receive any compensation for their services.

SECT. 2. The Mayor, Aldermen and Common Council, chosen as is hereinafter provided, shall enter on the duties of their respective offices on the first Monday of April in each year, and shall hold their offices for the term of one year from the time of their so entering on the duties thereof. And before entering on said duties, the Mayor, Aldermen and Common Council, shall be sworn to the faithful discharge of the same. And such oath may be administered to the Mayor elect by any justice of the peace for the county of Middlesex. And such oath shall be administered to the aldermen and common council, by the Mayor, being himself first sworn as aforesaid, and a certificate of such oath having been taken shall be entered in the journal of the Mayor and Aldermen, and of the Common Council, by their respective clerks. And whenever, on examination, by the Mayor and Aldermen for the time being, of the returns of votes given for Mayor at the meeting of the citizens, holden for the purpose of electing that officer last preceding the first Monday of April, in each year, no person shall appear to have a majority of all the votes given for Mayor, the Mayor and Aldermen by whom such examination is made, shall make a record of that fact, an attested copy of which, the City Clerk shall read, on the first Monday of April in each year in the presence of the persons returned to serve as Aldermen and Common Council: and thereupon the oath of office prescribed by law may be administered by any justice of the peace for the county of Middlesex. And the board of Aldermen shall then proceed to elect a chairman, who shall perform the duties of Mayor until the Mayor be duly chosen, and the Common Council a President, in their respective chambers, and being respectively organized shall proceed to business. And in case any person elected Mayor of said city, shall refuse to accept said office, the same proceeding shall be had as hereinbefore directed, in respect to the organization of the board of Aldermen and Common Council, in cases where there has been no choice of Mayor ; and the board of Aldermen so organized, shall forthwith issue their warrant for a meeting of the citizens for the choice of Mayor, at such time and place as they shall judge most convenient, and said meeting shall be organized, and the same proceedings had in all respects in relation to the choice of Mayor, as hereinafter directed in the twentieth section of this act. And in case of the death or resignation of any member of the Board of Aldermen, the citizens may fill such vacancy at any regular meeting that may thereafter be convened for that purpose.

SECT. 4. The Mayor and Aldermen shall compose one Board, and shall sit and act together as one body, at all meetings of which, the Mayor, if present, shall preside, but in his absence, the board may elect a chairman for the time being : and said Board, together with the Common Council in convention, shall choose a clerk to be denominated the City Clerk, who shall hold his of-

CENTRAL VILLAGE.

This name is given to that part of Dracutt lying on the Merrimack river, opposite Lowell. It embraces a circuit of half a mile around Central Bridge, and is mostly laid out into streets, squares, and building lots. Twelve years ago, this tract was almost without an inhabitant, where now are from 60 to 70 families, and the prospect of a rapid settlement.

There is an Academy incorporated, called the "Central Village Academy."
